Council at odds over revised drug policy

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

When it comes to implementing a drug testing policy for city employees, Granite City aldermen agree on one thing — that they disagree.

At an hour-long special City Council meeting Monday night, called to discuss a proposed drug testing policy for use in negotiations with unions representing city employees, it became apparent that the aldermen differ greatly on philosophy.

While one faction of the council believes as 7th Ward Alderman Sandy Crites does that any drug testing policy is better than no policy at all, another faction agrees with 6th Ward Alderman Walter Milton.

Milton said that the council must either support a policy that is "tough" on drug abusers or implement no policy at all.

While the city initially proposed expanding a drug-testing policy already in place at the police department to include all city employees, most of the six unions representing city employees at the fire, sanitation and street departments, operating engineers at the sewage treatment plant and white-collar workers; balked at that policy during negotiations, said Alderman Kim Affolter, chairman of the Insurance and Safety Committee.

"We were getting nowhere in negotiations.... The unions felt it was totally unfair to be discharged for a first offense," Affolter said.

An alternative, less stringent policy — prepared by the Insurance and Safety Committee and the city attorney staff and based on a policy currently in effect at the Metro East Sanitary District — was discussed at Monday night's meeting.

Among the major differences in the two policies are a "second chance" for first-time offenders of illegal drugs or alcohol and an unlimited period of amnesty for employees who voluntarily turn themselves in for help with drug or alcohol addiction.

"If I had my way, every department would go with the police department policy," Crites said.

Few leads in investigation into slaying

An investigation into the murder last week of a former Granite City woman has yielded few new leads, law enforcement officials say.

Madison County authorities are seeking clues into the Nov. 9 disappearance and slaying of Randy "Gail" Sperino, 34, from West Granite.

"We have nothing to report publicly. We have received a few calls, but nothing that appears to be on point," Capt. Bob Hertz, chief detective of the Madison County Sheriff's Department, said Monday.

Sperino, who had recently moved from Granite City to Charleston, Mo., was in the local area visiting relatives.

She was last seen getting into an older model pickup truck parked in the alley between Cuyaga and West 22nd streets, about a block away from her father's house in West Granite, at 8 p.m. Nov. 9.

The truck was seen proceeding along Rock Road to Highway 3, (See KILLING, Page 10A)

Empty school caves in — The gym roof and a wall of Louis Baer School in Madison collapsed sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. School officials said the cause of the collapse is undetermined. A recent inspection had found the building to be structurally sound and bids were sought from prospective buyers. Officials said Monday that an architectural inspection was to be done to determine if any damage had been done to the main building.

Soil at center to be removed

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Lead-contaminated soil will be removed this week from the playground at the Lincoln Place Community Center in Granite City, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency announced.

"The park is obviously a gathering place for children," said Brad Bradley, project manager for the $30 million Taracorp/NL Industries Superfund cleanup project.

"So we decided that, if the lead level was anywhere around 1,000 parts per million, we'd go ahead and do it. It was above 1,000 parts per million."

Bradley said soil will also be removed from a number of yards in the 1400 blocks of Grand Avenue and State Street within the next few weeks.

"The yards we've scheduled so far all have lead levels over 1,500 parts per million and all either have kids living there or kids that visit regularly," Bradley said.

Bradley said the EPA is currently getting permission from residents in the 1600 and 1700 blocks of Cleveland Boulevard and Delmar and Edison Avenues where lead levels are more than 1,500 parts per million.

"These are the areas with the highest contamination and also the areas closest to the (waste) pile (at 15th and State streets)."

"We hope to be able to clean them all before the money for the rapid-response (phase) runs out," Bradley said.

The rapid-response phase of the Superfund cleanup, which began earlier this year, calls for cleanup of areas where massive amounts of contaminated battery material are located close to the surface or where highly contaminated soil has been found in areas used by children and/or pregnant women — two groups highly susceptible to lead poisoning.

Old Newsboys papers hit the streets this week

By Jean Abernathy
Correspondent

Purchasers of Thursday's Old Newsboys edition Suburban Journal will not only help children's charities, they also will have a pictorial documentary of a day in the life of St. Louis.

On Sept. 22, the first day of fall, nine Journal photographers captured life in the metropolitan area. This year's Old Newsboys Day edition is a pictorial essay featuring moments from early morning to late at night. Appropriately, for a pictorial documentary, it was a day in 1989, Sept. 22 had 16 hours of rain.

Besides buying a keepsake newspaper, every penny paid for an Old Newsboys Day edition goes to St. Louis area children's charities. Last year, almost $215,000 was raised and distributed to 200 agencies. Since Old Newsboys Day began in 1957, more than $5 million has been raised.

Those desiring a newspaper need not look far. Volunteer Old Newsboys will be blanketing more than 1,200 corners. They will be dressed in the traditional newspaper collection aprons — courtesy (See PAPERS, Page 10A)

Lights on

New law requires car headlights during rain

If practice makes perfect, drivers who survived this past weekend's heavy rainfall may be ready for a new law requiring lights anytime windshield wipers blurt into action.

"The law is designed to increase visibility and safety," Illinois State Police Sgt. Brian Hollo said. It goes into effect Jan. 1, and violators will earn $75 tickets for each offense.

Hollo said he does not expect problems with enforcement like the seat belt law, which has drawn so much resistance from drivers that special police roadside safety checks have been set up to increase compliance.

"We haven't had any guidance, but I think it will have to be a downpour before we make an arrest," he said.

Under the new regulations, a car may be stopped any time the wipers are on and the headlights are not.

"We can stop a car just for that," Hollo said.

Authorities think drivers will have little reason not to obey the law except for the fear of forgetting to turn off the lights after a trip. A battery can lose all its power to restart an engine after a few hours of languishing with the lights on, authorities said.

Surveys in a number of Canadian provinces have shown a 15 percent decrease in accidents when lights have been turned on during hours when they normally would have been off, said Mike Right, spokesman for AAA Auto Club of Missouri.

"Those are fairly dramatic results that could probably be applied to similar situations for similar reductions."

The lights-on policy is far from unanimous. Illinois joins only Florida, Minnesota, New York, North and (See LIGHTS, Page 10A)

Firefighter gets 6-year prison term

A 39-year-old former Alton firefighter who lured his co-workers out of the firehouse so he could steal from them has been sentenced to six years in prison.

Michael Womack, who gave an address in the 1100 block of West Ninth Street, pleaded guilty Wednesday to home invasion and theft of more than $300. Four other felony charges were dismissed in return for the plea. Womack had pleaded guilty in June to falsely reporting fires and breaking into fire stations but was allowed to withdraw those pleas.

Madison County Associate Judge J. Lawrence Keshner Wednesday sentenced Womack to 10 years in prison for home invasion. He was also given three years for the theft charge, which will run concurrently with the 10-year sentence.

Keshner released Womack on a one-week furlough. If he returns to court after the week, his sentence will be reduced to six years.

Womack was charged with home invasion after he entered a woman's home May 5, twisted her wrist and grabbed her around the neck. He also admitted stealing money last year from a fire station while firefighters were called out after he had made false fire reports.

"Police were led to Womack in part because other firefighters recognized his voice on the 911 recording of the false fire calls."

DUI and lane charges

Bryan K. Jarman, 36, of the 2500 block of Namooki Drive, was arrested at 1:56 a.m. Nov. 8 for driving under the influence of alcohol and improper lane usage.

An officer reported hearing a loud muffler on a blue 1982 Buick Regal northbound on Namooki Road approaching St. Clair Avenue.

The car turned east on St. Clair and was being driven down the center of the road, according to a police report.

Jarman, the driver, took three field sobriety tests and a breath analysis test and was charged.

Handguns confiscated

Michael S. Laich, 30, of the 2900 block of Warren Avenue, was arrested at 12:58 a.m. Nov. 7 and charged with aggravated assault.

Two handguns were confiscated. Officers were dispatched to Laich's home to retrieve property.

According to a police report, a man who had attended a party at Laich's home earlier in the evening had been in an altercation and left without taking his jacket and a checkbook. Police knocked on the door and got no response, the report states.

Laich soon appeared from the side of the house wielding a Smith and Wesson .357-caliber gun, the report adds.

Laich dropped the gun when ordered to do so, and raised his empty hands over his head.

But an officer reported seeing a second gun under Laich's coat, which was waving in the breeze.

According to the report, Laich began back-peddling and turned his back on the officers.

One of the officers then jumped on his back, knocked Laich to the ground and handcuffed him, the report states.

The second gun, a 9-millimeter pistol with the hammer cocked and loaded with 14 hollow-point rounds, was recovered.

Laich was transported to the Granite City Jail, posted $107 cash as bail, and was released.

Laich subsequently filed a police report alleging that one of the police officers' relatives had started a fight at his home earlier in the evening.

An investigation into that allegation is continuing.

Alcohol charge filed

Roger J. Epperson, 51, of Edwardsville was arrested at 12:19 a.m. Nov. 7 for driving under the influence of alcohol, disobeying a traffic light and driving with an expired vehicle registration.

An officer reported seeing a yellow 1977 Mercury Marquis, stopped at a red light on Madison Avenue at 20th Street, suddenly pull through the intersection before the light changed to green.

Epperson took two field sobriety tests and a breath analysis test and was charged.

Possession alleged

Mark R. Shoneff, 36, of the 2200 block of Grand Avenue, was arrested at 3:36 a.m. Nov. 6 and charged with unlawful possession of cannabis.

Shoneff dropped a plastic bag containing three grams of alleged cannabis while talking to a police officer at the intersection of Niedringhaus Avenue and State Street, according to a police report.

Obstructing charged

Terrance J. Esterian, 27, of Glen Carbon was arrested at 11:48 p.m. Nov. 5 for obstructing a peace officer and unlawful possession of cannabis.

Esterian allegedly possessed less than 2.5 grams of cannabis and gave a police officer a false name when confronted at Niedringhaus Avenue and Cleveland Boulevard.

Drivers told: Use seatbelts

By Shay Wessol
Staff writer

Don't forget to use your seatbelts and your turn signals during the Thanksgiving season.

With increased traffic on roads and drivers' minds on thoughts of Thanksgiving turkey, the number of accidents rises during the holiday weekend, said Madison County Sheriff Bob Churchich.

"Always around the holidays, people's attention is diverted from their driving," Churchich said.

"Probably one of the worst causes of accidents is people failing to use their turn signals. And it's just plain laziness."

Though no statistics are available to pinpoint the number of accidents caused by a failure to use turn signals, Churchich said the numbers would "knock your socks off."

Seatbelts reduce the chances of serious injury in an accident by 55 percent for adults and 71 percent for children, Churchich said.

If you're caught not wearing your seatbelt, the penalty can be a $55 fine.

Apartment rehab at is approved

A $1.2 million renovation of the Tower Lake Apartments in Southern Illinois University Edwardsville has been approved by the SIU Board of Trustees.

The board, meeting in Carbondale, authorized the renovation to seek bids for the project.

Work will include repairs on most of the buildings at the Tower complex, repairing of all balconies on the buildings that were opened in 1980, and installing all smoke detectors, rewiring, and installing electrical and plumbing expansion above water heaters.

About 1,500 student Tower Lake Apartments are housed in the complex.

Construction of a deep hall for first-year sophomores is under way. The new building is on the site of the University Union. Completion is August.

Apartment rehab at SIUE is approved

A $1.2 million renovation of Tower Lake Apartments at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been approved by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

The board, meeting Thursday in Carbondale, authorized officials to seek bids for the project.

Work will include replacing roofs on most of the apartment buildings at the Tower Lake complex, repairing or replacing all balconies on the 31 buildings that were opened in 1973, replacing all smoke detectors and some electrical outlets, switches and wiring, and installing thermal expansion absorbers on all water heaters.

About 1,500 students live in Tower Lake Apartments.

Construction of a 500-bed residence hall for freshmen and sophomores is under way south of Circle Drive on the former site of the University Police Station. Completion is expected in August.

Elks aid flood victims — Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 presented a check for $20,000 to the Salvation Army of Southwestern Madison County "Noah's Ark" flood drive. Lt. Tim Miller of the Salvation Army said this is the largest single donation ever given to the organization. The donation was made on behalf of the national, state and local Elks to aid those areas effected by the summer flood of 1993. The funds were derived from donations contributed from across the country and were in addition to a $3,100 donation given by Granite City Elks in October. From left to right at the check presentation are Bob Little, Elks exalted ruler; Lt. Tim Miller; John Hogue, Elks first vice president from Herrin; Granite City Mayor Ron Selph; and Marvin Leather, Elks state secretary from Mount Vernon.

Poll for Bowles puts her in front

A poll conducted for Illinois Senate candidate Evelyn Bowles has her leading her nearest opponent in the Democratic primary race by a ratio of more than 6-to-1.

Bowles, the Madison County clerk, said Friday the poll indicates she would garner 50 percent of the votes among Democrats in the 56th Senate District if the March primary were held now.

The poll indicates Wood River Township Highway Commissioner Steve Davis would receive 8 percent and Madison County Board member Dick Worthen would get 4 percent. The rest of the voters polled, 38 percent, were undecided.

The three are bidding for the nomination to succeed State Sen. Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville, who is retiring after 28 years in the General Assembly. "While I knew I had a lot of support after 20 years of public service, I had no idea that such support ran this deep," Bowles said.

Davis questioned the significance of the poll. "I don't know who did the polling. I have no idea what they asked," he said. "I don't think there's any doubt that she has higher name recognition than myself at this stage of the campaign," Davis continued.

Worthen said: "Evelyn is a competent, intelligent person. She has been a good vote-getter in the past and she will be a good vote-getter in the future. It doesn't surprise me."

The poll was conducted by Public Opinion Research Inc. of Washington and is reputed to be accurate within 5 percent.

Park District presents Christmas Ideas Festival

The Granite City Park District's 16th Annual Christmas Ideas Festival will be held Saturday, Nov. 20, at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Ames avenues. The doors will be open to the public at 10 a.m. and will close at 5 p.m. Admission is free.

Fifty-six crafters will exhibit their wares with all items geared to either Christmas gifts or decorations.

The show was the first craft show in town with many of the crafters returning every year. New artists are added each year as spaces open up. The event is well attended and gets everyone in the Christmas spirit.

Some of the items to be on display are unique painted gourds, hand-carved and antique-painted book replicas, hand-quilted vests, chain pulls, dog and cat feeders, rocking horses, tree toppers, feather ornaments, vintage button covers and Victorian jewelry, gift baskets, Santa Claus, dry-brushed wildlife, 14K gold jewelry with colored gemstones, boxes, reindeer decorations, Christmas angels of all kind, original art greeting cards, Christmas wreaths, floral arrangements, acrylic tote painted items, alighans, baby quilts, sweater sets, hair accessories, tree skirts, magic pillows, Barbie items, yard ornaments, paper twist flowers, firestarters, wax chip poultour, dolls, wooden chests, shelves, tables, Mardi Gras masks, homemade candy and bakery items, doorstops, ornaments, rug rugs and many other festive gift ideas.

Jackie Sparks displays some of the dolls she will exhibit at the Christmas Ideas Festival.

Rights panel will meet Thursday

The monthly meeting of the Human Rights Authority will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 18, at the Alton Mental Health Center, 4500 College Ave., Alton. The authority is a panel of citizen volunteers appointed by the Illinois Guardianship and Advocacy Commission and is empowered by statute to investigate allegations that the rights of disabled persons are being violated by any public or private facility or organization which provides services to the disabled. The authority is one of nine appointed through Illinois and serves Bond, Calhoun, Clinton, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington counties. Rights violations may be reported at the meeting, which is open to the public, or by contacting the Human Rights Coordinator, James May, at the Guardianship and Advocacy Commission Metro East Field Office, 4500 College Avenue, Pine Cottage, Alton, 62022, 462-4561.

Kids' Kapers' set for Thursday

The Children's Center for Behavioral Development will hold its third annual "Kids' Kapers" event on Thursday, Nov. 18, from 8 a.m.-6 p.m. at the St. Clair Auto Mall, Auffenberg Hyundai Inc. at 195 Auto Court in O'Fallon.

Individuals and organizations have pledged money the day of the event, which will then go to benefit the children at the Children's Center.

The Children's Center for Behavioral Development is a non-profit licensed day treatment, residential and outpatient counseling facility. Therapeutic, educational and vocational remediation is provided to students and their families.

Day treatment services are available through referrals from school districts. Outpatient services are available to all children, adolescents and their families.

Residential services are available for students in need of institutionalized care. Anyone interested in participating in the upcoming "Kids' Kapers" or who is in need of additional information about the Children's Center, please contact Janice Mayberry-Center at 618-990-1152, extension 144.

Tickets for Campbell show may go fast

ALTON — Glen Campbell hasn't topped the country music charts in years, but the Rhinestone Cowboy still can lasso a crowd — and he may well draw quite a crowd when he brings his music to a Godfrey arena next month to benefit area flood victims.

"I'm a huge fan of Glen Campbell," said WIL-FM disc jockey David Craig.

"I hadn't seen him live until this summer in Branson, (Mo.). You go down there and see these stars who haven't had a hit in a while and you wonder if they still have their chops."

"Let me tell you, Glen Campbell certainly does."

That means tickets for the Alton Lake Flood Relief Concert could go fast.

"They went on sale Monday at several area banks."

Craig and his morning drive-time partner Debbie Conner have volunteered to be emcees of the Dec. 10 show at the River Bend Arena at Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey.

"I suffered no personal damage from the flood, but I feel a lot of empathy and sympathy for the flood survivors," Craig said.

"We have spoken here at WIL to many of our listeners who suffered tremendous flood damage. The spirit of these people as they go on with their lives is astounding to me."

Wedge Bank Chief Executive Officer and Board Chairman Melvin G. Hall secured Campbell for the concert. Hall also pledged $5,000 for the benefit and Wedge Bank matched his donation.

"One hundred percent of the money raised from ticket sales will go to the flood victims," Wedge Bank Senior Vice President Larry Jones said.

Tickets are $25 in advance and $30 the day of the concert. A donation above the price of a ticket is tax deductible, Jones said.

Proceeds will be put into a trust at Wedge Bank.

Mayors from flood-afflicted communities, including Alton, Grafton, Hardin and West Alton, Mo., will distribute the funds.

Tickets for the show, which will open at 7 p.m. with a performance by the gospel group Fred Church and the Spirituals, are available at Wedge Bank, 620 E. Broadway in Alton, and the bank's seven outlets. Tickets also can be purchased at 25 other area banks, including Mercantile, Magna, Illinois State, the Bank of Alton and the Bank of Edwardsville.

People who want to make donations should call 463-4383. For a donation of $250, individuals or couples will meet Campbell backstage during a preconcert hors d'oeuvre hour. Also, prizes will be given away at the concert, including a weekend for two at the Branson Inn.

The $650 trip includes tickets for two to the Glen Campbell Theater, the Will Rogers Folies and four dinners at the Country Cafe.

Study to focus on women aged 30-45

The University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service is beginning a study of women's health habits and how educational intervention can bring about positive lifestyle changes. This two-year study will monitor the health habits of women 30-45 years, with over 300 participants statewide. In the Metro East area, 40 women will be recruited to participate.

Any premenopausal 30- to 45-year-old woman who is interested in participating, should contact the Madison-St. Clair Unit office at either 692-7700, Edwardsville, or 236-8600, Belleville.

Expans

After three years of litigation that reached all the way to the state Supreme Court, law Waste Systems Inc. is proceeding with an expansion of its landfill.

"We are going ahead with the expansion," said Dennis Laidlaw, environmental manager for the expansion.

Laidlaw received final approval for the expansion from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency this summer.

The project involves the space between the landfill and the 63-acre hill pouring trash behind it.

Wike said the expansion is expected to add 14 years of life to the landfill and a single large hill towering over surrounding farms.

A legal dispute over the expansion started in 1989 when officials turned down a request for permission to expand the landfill.

State law requires environmental approvals for expansion of a landfill facility in an unincorporated area, which gave the jurisdiction.

As a result of the rejection, the company negotiated with the village to annex the landfill, thereby making it a part of the village.

November 1989, the village annexed the landfill, renamed the Roxana Village.

Laidlaw's request for satisfying the state for local government approval.

The Roxana approval overturned by the Control Board on a but a second application was approved.

Opponents took the state appellate court to uphold the Pollution Board's ruling.

In October 1992, the court turned down the request to hear the ruling opened the way for law officials to begin

Expansion begins at landfill

After three years of legal battles that reached all the way to the state Supreme Court, Laidlaw Waste Systems Inc. is proceeding with an expansion of the Roxana Landfill.

"We are going ahead as planned," said Dennis Wike, environmental manager at the landfill. "We begin receiving waste in the new section Oct. 1."

Laidlaw received final approval for the expansion from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency this summer.

The project involves closing the space between two large hills at the 63-acre landfill by pouring trash between them.

Wike said. The expansion is expected to add 14 years to the life of the landfill and result in a single large hill towering 130 feet over surrounding farmland.

A legal dispute over the expansion started in 1988 when county officials turned down Laidlaw's request for permission to expand what was then known as the Barton Landfill.

State law requires local governments approve any landfill expansions. At the time, the facility was in an unincorporated area, which gave the county jurisdiction.

As a result of the county's rejection, the company began negotiations with Roxana officials to annex the landfill into the village, thereby cutting the county out of the picture.

In November 1989, the landfill was annexed into Roxana and renamed the Roxana Landfill.

Village officials approved Laidlaw's request for expansion, satisfying the state requirement for local government approval.

The Roxana approval was later overturned by the Pollution Control Board on a technicality, but a second application to the board was approved in 1991.

Opponents took the case to the state appellate court, which upheld the Pollution Control Board's ruling.

In October 1992, the Supreme Court turned down opponents' request to hear the case. That ruling opened the way for Laidlaw officials to begin seeking the additional permits needed for the expansion.

Opponents had argued the expansion would disrupt the county's solid-waste management plan. They also said they were worried the landfill would leak into the water supplies of Edwardsville, Glen Carbon, Troy and other towns.

George Moran Sr. of Granite City, the attorney representing expansion opponents, was out of town and could not be reached for comment on whether opponents will pursue further action.

BAC to host star-gazing party during lunar eclipse

Belleville Area College's Astronomy Club will host a free star-gazing party during this month's lunar eclipse. The party will be held at the college's observatory at the Belleville Campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, on Nov. 28, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The observatory is located in the southeast section of the campus near the baseball field. The observatory houses a permanently mounted, 10-inch reflector telescope that can be used for photographing the eclipse. Two portable telescopes, one 13-inch and one 8-inch reflector, will be set up outside the observatory. A TV monitor will also be hooked up to a telescope for viewing.

"This is an opportunity for all ages," said Kurt Sleeter, organizer of the event. "We encourage others to use our equipment or bring their own telescopes, binoculars and cameras."

The sky party may be canceled if there are poor weather conditions.

Mildred Meek

Mildred "Millie" (Damon) Meek, 88, of Granite City died at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 14, 1993, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after being ill for several years.

She was born Nov. 25, 1904, in Casey, Mo., and had been a resident of Granite City since 1937.

She was a teacher for most of her life, most recently with the Granite City School District for 11 years prior to her retirement in 1962.

Mrs. Meek was a member of First Presbyterian Church, Granite City; the Ladies Coleridge; and the Gaudok Women's Club, where she was a founder. She graduated from the University of Illinois with a bachelor's degree in English and history.

Survivors include her husband, Louis E. Meek; one son, Bruce Meek of New Providence, N.J.; and two grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Damon and Ethel Naomi (Elder) Damon; and one brother, Arthur Damon.

Mrs. Meek's body has been donated to Washington University School of Medicine for medical research. A memorial service will be announced at a later date. Arrangements were by Irwin Chapel, 3960 Maryville Road, Granite City, 931-8000.

William Fletcher Sr.

William E. Fletcher Sr., 71, of Cahokia died Tuesday, Nov. 9, 1993, at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Belleville. He was born May 11, 1922, in Dallas, Texas.

He was a retired grocer for the Usselman Grocery store in St. Louis and was a member of Holy Family Catholic Church and the Holy Name Society.

A World War II Army veteran with five Bronze Stars, Mr. Fletcher was a member of and served as a palbearer for many years at St. Vincent de Paul. He was a 4th Degree member of the Cahokia Knights of Columbus Council 4586.

Survivors include his wife, Rita (Gaudok) Fletcher; Louis, Bill Fletcher of Dupo; a daughter, Kathy Fourcort of Pontoon Beach; and three grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a daughter, Jennifer Fletcher, and his parents, Everett and Rosemarie (Edmonds) Fletcher.

The Rosary was recited by the Rev. Emil Maziarz at Holten Funeral Home in Belleville on Thursday night, followed by a Knights of Columbus chalice service. Funeral services were held Friday at Holy Family Catholic Church in Cahokia with the Rev. Robert Keating officiating. Burial was at St. Joseph Cemetery, Cahokia.

Fred Tanksley Sr.

Fred Herman Tanksley Sr., 84, of Granite City died at 9 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 14, 1993, at Memorial Hospital, Belleville, after a lengthy illness. He was born Sept. 28, 1909, in Farmington, Mo., and had resided in Granite City since 1953.

A boilermaker and fireman at the U.S. Army Melvin Price Support Center, Granite City, for 40 years prior to his retirement in 1982, he was of the Protestant faith.

Survivors include his wife, Clara Barbara (Apponyi) Tanksley, whom he married Jan. 18, 1935; one son, Fred H. Tanksley Jr. of Granite City; three daughters, Clara Marcus of St. Louis, Carol Dever of Gillespie and Barbara Britt of Madison; seven grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Columbus and Fanny Tanksley.

Services were held Tuesday at Irwin Chapel, Granite City, with the Rev. Rob Baker officiating. Burial was at Valley View Cemetery, Edwardsville.

"Our youth need people to look up to, especially policemen and firemen. I expect them to set an example for the rest of the community."

"But any type of policy is better than what we have right now. We have people operating heavy equipment on the streets right now and we can't even check if they're clean," she said. But Milton said that he "will not support any medicare-type system."

"Maybe I was born during the wrong age, but I don't believe in drugs. We have to stop playing games and forget this Mickey Mouse (stuff)... We don't need people who take drugs working for the city. Period."

"I would like to see the city (implement policy) than do it half-way," Milton said.

Ward 6 Alderman Judy Whitaker said the city should stand firm in negotiations.

"Why are city employees so afraid to take a drug test? City employees should be someone people can look up to; they should be drug-free," Whitaker said.

"I have a hard time accepting this watered-down program and I think the public will, too."

"If the (workers) don't want to sign this contract, let them walk. If they don't want this policy, then they're the ones with the problem," Whitaker said.

Q: A worker currently without a contract, only firefighters may not strike. They have the right to demand an arbitration panel to resolve issues.

The remaining union city workers have the right to strike. If the city doesn't propose an alternative policy which has not been made public, it reportedly does not call for random testing.

South Carolina, Georgia and West Virginia in considering the headlight law. Missouri is considering the change, along with other states.

"It's something that's percolating among many state legislatures. I think more and more states will be joining the ranks," Right said.

Sen. Ralph Dunn of DuQuoin, who introduced the bill, said it was a safety idea whose time had come. The Legislature had been kicking it around almost 10 years.

Right said lights-on has always been the law in a number of states during periods of daytime darkness. California drivers are particularly attuned to lighting up when the fog rolls in, he said.

AAA officially supports the headlight requirement and is also asking auto manufacturers to provide an interlocking car system so lights will automatically operate when the wipers are activated, he said.

"Nobody makes the automatic system yet, but we're asking for it," he said.

Newer cars sound an alarm when drivers turn off the motor while the lights are on.

"That's what we need to see the light and comply with the new law."

"As people become more accustomed to it, they will see the need and the safety factor," he said.

Illinois State Police Sgt. Ron Williams said many people have been driving with their lights on for years, and a number of trucking companies require it.

"Motorcycles are required to have their lights on all times," Williams said.

"I've been a motorcycle rider all my life and I agree it does help. I believe the new law will help everyone."

In St. Peters and St. Charles, area businesses will have newspapers and canisters for those who want to donate to the Old Newsboys Day fund and pick up a special newspaper as well. The canisters were donated by Graham Packaging.

This year, the corner of Hampton and Oakland avenues promises to be an interesting spot to purchase a paper. Bring the kids down and let them purchase a paper from their favorite sports team. Representatives of Blues Hockey, Ambush Soccer and the St. Louis Vipers will duke it out on that corner. KTVI-TV (Channel 2) also will be there.

Coach Bernie Fedorko and players Scott Bokal, Rob Grimm, Ken Butler and Greg Royer will be on hand representing St. Louis Vipers Roller Hockey.

As always, downtown St. Louis at Broadway and Market streets will feature several local celebrities, including Marcos the Clown, Fredbird, Miss Tall St. Louis and the Missouri Watermelon Queen.

Earlier this year, the EPA discovered that lead from the piles has apparently been leaching into the groundwater.

In an Explanation of Significant Differences — a legal document required to change a portion of a Record of Decision — the EPA notes that it now appears that, rather than sealing the scrap pile in place, it might be necessary to remove the scrap pile in the future.

The EPA said removal of the pile would require reopening the Record of Decision for the site — a process that would require a public comment period.

Granite City officials have said they want assurance that a new public comment period would actually consider the information and data presented and not just be held to satisfy a legal requirement.

Prince Vaughn, 70, of Granite City, formerly of Venice, died at 4:28 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 14, 1993, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after a five-year illness.

A spray painter at General Motors Corp., St. Louis, for 30 years before retiring in 1979, he was a member of United Auto Workers Local 25 and was of the Protestant faith.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret T. Vaughn; one daughter, Linda; one son, Edward M. Denny of Granite City and Gary L. Taylor of Lowell, Mass.; four sisters, Bernice Nichols of Overland, Mo., and Ethel Scaggs, Iva Nations and Georgia Rodgers, all of St. Louis; and four grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Charles Marion Vaughn and Alice Philamese (Taylor) Vaughn.

A private family memorial service was held Monday. Mr. Vaughn's body was donated to St. Louis University School of Medicine for anatomical research. His remains are to be cremated at a later date. Arrangements were by Irwin Chapel, Granite City.

Robert Chartrand

Robert James Chartrand, 60, of East Carondelet died on his birthday, Tuesday, Nov. 9, 1993. He was born Nov. 9, 1933, in Centerville.

He was formerly employed by St. Theresa's Academy in East St. Louis.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy M. (Dixson) Chartrand; three daughters, Charles White and Thomas White, both of Cahokia, and Eric White of Milan, Mich.; four daughters, Louise Grove of Nazareth, Pa., Dorothy White of Bunker Hill and Donna Jones and Cynthia Chartrand, both of Chicago; five sisters, Clara Watts of Bradenton, Fla., Elsie Anderson of St. Louis, Helen Cummins of Granite City, Louise Chartand of Cahokia, a brother, Frank Chartrand; and a granddaughter, Tiffany White.

Services were held Friday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Dupo with the Rev. Dollar officiating. Burial was at Mount Carmel Cemetery, Belleville. Braun Colonial Funeral Home in Cahokia handled the arrangements.

Soil

byproduct of a former secondary lead smelter at 15th and State streets, was used as paving material in alleys in Venice and the fill in areas of Granite City and Eagle Park.

Bradley said samples of the battery chip areas showed lead concentrations as high as 70,000 parts per million and said the areas had an average of about 4,000 parts per million.

Under the EPA's Record of Decision — the legal document establishing the cleanup for the Taracorp Superfund, the residential surface material with a concentration of 500 ppm or higher is to be removed.

About a third of the alleys in Venice have been cleaned and repaved this year and the remainder of the alleys are scheduled for cleanup.

Bradley said the EPA had planned to include the residential yards at the end of the rapid-response phase, but moved up the schedule because of unexpected down-time in the alley cleanup.

"The material we've taken from the alleys has to go to a hazardous-waste landfill and, because the landfill is expensive and far away, we have been looking at alternatives," Bradley said.

Many people first develop one of its life-threatening complications.

The two major diabetes Insulin Dependent (the body does not produce insulin) and Non-Insulin Dependent (the body does not use insulin properly).

Warning signs include extreme hunger, unusual thirst, frequent urination, resulting from the insulin, it is the most common of the disease by 70 years of age.

Blurred vision, tingling and numbness in the hands and feet, results should also be the disease, a spokesman said.

The nine-year United States treatment of insulin development of blindness of the diabetics.

Researchers sound and risk of tight control. Tight control means that non-diabetics, four insulin shots a day, pump. Eye disease is the most common cause of nerve disease by 60 years of age.

Diabetes Awareness Month begins

To help encourage awareness of diabetes, St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City is observing Diabetes Awareness Month in November.

Diabetes is a silent killer. Symptoms are often mild and even non-existent in many people. More than half of the 14 million people in the United States who have diabetes are not aware they have the disease.

Many people first become aware they have diabetes when they develop one of its life-threatening complications.

The two major diabetes types are:
Insulin Dependent (Type I) — An autoimmune disease in which the body does not produce insulin, most often occurring in children and young adults. People with Type I diabetes must take daily insulin injections to stay alive.

Warning signs include frequent urination, unusual thirst, extreme hunger, unusual weight loss, extreme fatigue and irritability.

Non-insulin dependent (Type II) — A metabolic disorder resulting from the inability to make enough or properly use insulin, it is the most common form of the disease.

Warning signs include any of Type I symptoms, frequent infections, blurred vision, cuts and bruises that are slow to heal, tingling and numbness in the hands or feet, or recurring skin, gum or bladder infections. A recent study has settled some of the controversy over how to treat diabetes in its most severe form. The results should also help people who have the less severe type of the disease, a spokesman said.

The nine-year United States and Canadian study found intensive treatment of insulin-dependent diabetes significantly slows the development of blindness, kidney damage and other complications of the disease.

Researchers sought to settle a debate over whether the effort and risk of tight control paid off in reducing complications.

Tight control means keeping blood sugar as close as possible to that of non-diabetics, by frequent blood sugar testing and three to four insulin shots a day or the use of a computer-controlled insulin pump. Eye disease in diabetics who had been intensively treated was reduced by 76 percent; kidney disease by 36 percent; and nerve disease by 60 percent.

IRS explains installment plan for paying taxes

"People have heard about the Internal Revenue Service's plan to permit taxpayers to pay their 1993 taxes on an interest-free installment plan," said Daniel L. Black Jr., Springfield district director.

However, this provision affects only the extra tax those taxpayers will pay because of the recent tax law's new top marginal rates of 36 and 39.6 percent. The extra tax may be paid in three annual installments.

The law made the new rates retroactive to Jan. 1, 1993, but did not change the withholding tables to reflect these new rates. Taxpayers falling under these new rates will owe more tax.

To qualify, taxpayers must pay at least 90 percent of their total 1993 tax, minus two-thirds of the "additional tax" amount, by the due date of the return which is April 15, 1994. The second and third installments will then be due on April 15, 1995 and April 15, 1996.

Taxpayers who request an extension of time to file their 1993 return must still pay the required amount by April 15.

1994. Since the exact tax liability may not be known when the extension is filed, the 90 percent computation is used to determine whether they made a reasonable estimate.

The election for installment payments must be made on an original, timely-filed 1993 tax return. Amended returns and returns filed late are not eligible. The IRS is developing Form 8841, "Deferral of Additional 1993 Taxes," for computing and making the installment election.

Taxpayers who have questions about this installment option may visit their local IRS office or call toll-free 1-800-829-1040. Telecommunications service for deaf taxpayers who have access to TDD equipment is available at 1-800-829-4059.

AT MEMORIAL,
WE CAN IMPROVE YOUR IMAGE.

By now, you've come to expect Memorial to be this area's leader in introducing advanced, clinically-proven, and cost-effective diagnostic testing technologies. That's why Memorial introduced this area's first high-powered Magnetic Resonance Imaging service.

There are other MRI scanners in this area. However, you and your physician can benefit from the highest imaging power, sophisticated clinical technology, substantially reduced scanning times and superior image quality of Memorial's state-of-the-art MRI system.

Memorial's MRI Center, like all of its outpatient services, was built with the patients in mind. It features a comfortable and attractive facility staffed by skilled professionals - - as well as easy scheduling, convenient parking/access, and expedited registration.

Now, you can take advantage of a highly advanced MRI scan in a very pleasant setting... with the added comfort of significantly shorter exam times. And, you no longer have to fight the St. Louis bridge traffic to benefit from the latest MRI technology available - - locally only at Memorial.

When your physician recommends an MRI scan, ask that it be performed at Memorial's MRI Center - this area's leader in advanced, clinically-proven, and cost-effective MRI technology.

David Weller will look at the Granite City basketball team Tuesday when the Lady Warriors take the season with a shot against Mascoutah. The Lady Warriors, a 17-9 season that regional championship, are eager to get under who takes over as for Allen Lobdell. "Things are shaping up pretty well," Weller said. "It took a while because they had to adjust to a new coach and a new system, but we're ready to get busy."

THREE STARTERS return Warriors, including Jamie Cavaness, a one of the area's ers, will be the offensive threat. Kessel, a point guard, the offense along. The team's other er is Denise McMenamin, a more shooting guard. Players give the experienced nu from. "I'm pleased with ship and experience demonstrating," Weller said.

David Weller will get his first look at the Granite City girls basketball team Thursday night when the Lady Warriors open the season with a home game against Mascoutah.

The Lady Warriors, coming off a 17-9 season that included a regional championship, are eager to get under way. Weller, who takes over as head coach for Allen Lobdell, is optimistic.

"Things are shaping up pretty well," Weller said. "It took a while because they had to adjust to a new coach and a new system, but we're ready to get busy."

THREE McMillan starters return for the Lady Warriors, including seniors Jamie Caviness and Kami Kessel. Caviness, a 6-1 center and one of the area's top post players, will be the team's main offensive threat after averaging 23 points and 11 rebounds last year.

Kessel, a point guard, will run the offense along with Caviness. The team's other returning starter is Denise McMillan, a sophomore shooting guard. The three players give the Lady Warriors an experienced nucleus to build from.

"I'm pleased with the leadership and experience they've been demonstrating," Weller said.

In Caviness, the Lady Warriors have a dependable scorer who has the ability to dominate inside.

"The first time I saw Jamie, I knew she was a good ballplayer based on what she did in drills," Weller said. "She runs the floor really well. I expect her to lead the break at times. I've given her the green light. From what I've seen, she makes good decisions."

While Caviness, Kessel and

McMillan will fill three of the starting slots, several players are still competing for the remaining positions. Four players — sophomore Jennifer Willis, juniors Joann Groboski and Robin Cain and senior Mikka Economy — round out a seven-player rotation.

WILLIS AND GROBOSKI can play at guard or forward. Economy is a guard, and Cain is a forward.

"We're getting a pretty good idea of who will fill the starting positions," Weller said. "Things are pretty much squared away."

The Lady Warriors will be an aggressive team on both ends of the court. Weller stresses pressure defense and hopes to see Granite City utilize Caviness' skills on the fast break.

The Lady Warriors will look to force turnovers on defense and run a motion offense.

"We'll have a lot of movement on offense and that should open

Versatile athlete finds success in Senior games

By R.J. Gerber

When Gerald "Jake" Kalert decided to take up swimming four years ago, his motivation was to improve his health. But what Kalert, a 59-year-old resident of the Mitchell area, didn't know was that while he was lowering his cholesterol level, he was also on his way to Senior Olympic success.

KALERT, A LIFELONG Granite City area resident, was honored with the Illinois Senior Olympics Skinner Award this past September in Springfield. The award is given to the athlete who accumulates the highest point total throughout the Senior Olympic season.

Kalert's strong swimming ability helped him attain the award. Kalert won three of four swimming events, was a member of the gold-medal winning softball team, won the bowling title, and took second in both casting events. He was second in the another swimming event, but didn't place in the golf event. That's because it was rained out.

Kalert won titles in the 50-meter breaststroke, 100 breaststroke, 50 backstroke and was second in the 50 freestyle. He also bowled a 585 series. Those results were good enough for him to win the award in the 55-59 age group.

"I really enjoyed it. Everything went pretty good," said Kalert, who beat out more than 470 other athletes in his age group. "I was trying to get (the award)."

Kalert qualified for national competition in Baton Rouge, La., but things didn't go as well there, he said.

TWO YEARS AGO, he placed nationally in Syracuse, N.Y. Kalert was fourth in the 100 breaststroke and fifth in the 50 breaststroke.

Kalert attributes his Senior Olympics success to hard work, but if he hadn't had friends who took part in the program he might not be participating at all.

"I swam a little in high school," said Kalert, who was also a wrestler and the captain of the Granite City football team his senior year. "But my friends started talking about it and I started about four years ago. One of the reasons was my cholesterol was high. The swimming worked out good. And this gives me the incentive to work out."

Kalert was honored with a trophy at a dinner-dance in Springfield. He said his wife, Amy, and two other couples made

If you're looking for shooters, hunt down the SIUE men's basketball team. The Cougars will be relying on long-range shooting more than ever this season. "We'll be more of a guard/forward-oriented team," said Jack Margenthaler, the Cougars' second-year head coach. "We really don't have a bona fide post player, so we'll be doing a lot of things different."

"We'll mostly be a running team that'll do a lot of perimeter shooting. So rebounding and defending opposing post players will be two of our main concerns.

THE COUGARS pumped the ball inside to senior center Antwan Stallworth as much as they could last season, and everybody benefited from the strategy. Stallworth came on strong the second half of the season and wound up averaging 19.6 points per game. SIUE finished a respectable 14-12 in Margenthaler's inaugural campaign.

Panthers' passing game keys 35-20 upset win over Cahokia

By R.J. Gerber
Staff writer

The most successful football season in Cahokia High School history came to a screeching halt Saturday.

Jerseyville (9-3), which will play at Geneseo Darnall in the state semifinals Saturday, upset the host Comanches 35-20 in the quarterfinals of the Class 4A playoffs.

Cahokia (9-3) never seemed to get untracked, although it took a 14-12 lead late in the second quarter. The Comanches' pass defense led to their downfall, however, as the Panthers' Chris Long scored twice and hauled in five passes for 130 yards.

WITH JERSEYVILLE LEAD- ing 20-14 early in the fourth quarter, the Panthers converted a fourth-and-inches play as quarterback Rob Schroeder kept the ball and gained 12 yards.

On the very next play, Schroeder hit Long for a 40-yard touchdown as the Comanche secondary bit on a play fake.

Jerseyville's Dylan Griffith carried the ball in on a counter play for the two-point conversion and the Panthers led 28-14 with 10:56 to play.

Schroeder and Long also hooked up for a 42-yard scoring play in the second quarter, giving the Panthers a 12-0 advantage. The Cahokia secondary was burned for 182 yards passing by Schroeder, a 6-5, 200-pound junior.

"One advantage we had was they weren't used to playing against us," Jerseyville coach Bill Breden said. "We knew we would have to be able to throw the ball. We knew we could (win). This is the greatest win I can ever recall, emotionally, this is the biggest."

THE COMBINATION of poor coverage and a lack of a pass rush hurt the Comanches, who gave up the most points they had all season.

"We knew (Schroeder) could throw the ball," Cahokia coach Rob Eden said. "We just got beat by a better football team today. We came out flatter than a doornail. I thought the one-point win last week (a 34-33 victory) was a fluke."

(See CAHOKIA, Page 3B)

Stallworth is gone, but Ty Margenthaler, the coach's son, returns. Margenthaler, a 6-foot-5, 205-pound senior guard/forward, averaged 16.5 points per game, second to Stallworth.

Guards Brian Karvinen, a 5-11 senior from Cahokia and Matt Fridley, a 6-foot senior who played at Wesclin High, figure to work in the backcourt. Anthony Smith,

Belvidere ends East Side's playoff drive

By Dan King

BELVIDERE — Within two years of the 60-a-head touchdown late in the third quarter Saturday, East St. Louis was turned away and host Belvidere went on to a 26-13 Class 5A quarterfinal football victory.

In front of a Funderburg Stadium crowd of 3,000 and trailing 13-7, the Flyers moved 61 yards in the eighth quarter to tie the game before sophomore running back Kevin Beard (126 yards on 27 attempts) was stopped for a 1-yard loss on fourth down.

AFTER An exchange of possessions, the Flyers took over on their own 27, but Bucs defensive back Lou Martinez stepped in front of a Stacy Stevenson pass into the flat and sprinted 33 yards for a 19-7 Belvidere lead with 5:27 remaining.

"They made the plays when they had to," East Side coach Bob Shannon said. "We couldn't get the big play when we needed it. We needed to score when we got the ball there and the score was 13-7. The kids made a nice drive, we just didn't get it in."

Belvidere, which didn't attempt a pass and rushed for 341 yards, stopped East St. Louis (9-3) on downs three times in its own half.

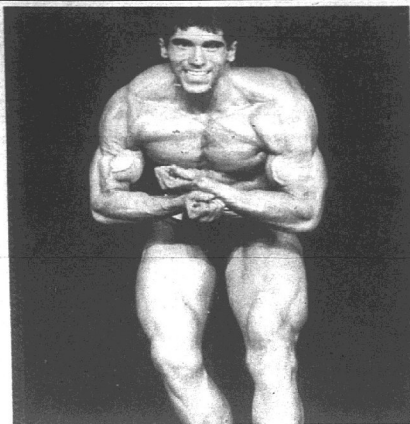

"Those short-yardage situations were great, especially the one in the third quarter," Belvidere coach Vern Pottinger said. "We went with a six-man front when they got inside the 10. We thought they might try to go wide, but they kept coming right at us."

The Bucs (12-0) advanced to the semifinals, where they play NIC-9 Conference rival Rockford Boylan, a 14-13 upset winner over Wheaton-Warrenville South. It is believed to be the first time two teams from the same conference have met in the semifinals.

at 7:30 of the second quarter, the Flyers took just 16 seconds to retaliate. David Searcy took a Stevenson screen pass and went 65 yards for the score.

With Mago Martinez breaking an 18-yard run to key the drive, the Bucks marched 80 yards to take a 13-7 lead at the half. Shadd Pease darted 13 yards up the middle into the end zone.

Belvidere, which runs a no-huddle wishbone offense, put the game away 26-7 on Aaron Lattin's 31-yard run at 3:11 of the fourth quarter. The run followed a Bryan Horkheimer fumble recovery, which set up the Bucks at the Flyer 44.

East Side had 292 yards total offense and 15 first downs.

"We wish (Belvidere) well," Shannon said. "They outplayed us. They've got the better team."

63 at district garden meeting

Sixty-three members of District V Garden Clubs met Oct. 28 at Holiday Shores Clubhouse for their annual presidents' council day. This is the day club presidents and past district directors are honored with a lunch and a corsage.

The 12 clubs represented were Cahokia Garden Club, Creative Gardeners of Jersey County, Edwardsville Garden Club, Fairview Heights Garden Club, Garden Study Club of Granite City, Green Oaks Garden Club of Macoupin County, Holiday Shores Garden Club, Lakeview Garden Club of Collinsville, Mascoutah Garden Club, St. Clair County Garden Club of Belleville, Trenton Tumbleweeds and Wood River Area Garden Club. Holiday Shores Garden Club was the hostess club for the event. Ruby Francis, president of the club, gave the welcoming address, with the response by Carol Holbert, vice chairwoman of District V.

Past directors present were Lillian Heberer, Mascoutah; Marian Nelson, Trenton; Ruth Buesch, Belleville; Mary Ellen Lindsey, Cahokia; Virginia

Kaufhold, Belleville; Dorothy Chamberlain, Mascoutah; and Ben Halford, Edwardsville. Holbert pinned a corsage on each as they were introduced.

After the lunch, Rosemary Neuman, owner of Rosemary's Garden in Gillespie, presented a program on peonies and daffodils, with slides and narration.

She said, "Peonies last a lifetime, so always buy the best. There are five major forms—single, Japanese, anemone, semi-double and full-double."

Neuman used the roots of a plant to demonstrate how to plant a peony. Also shown were all the different types of daffodils.

Class II, "Fields and Flowers," advanced designers, Lil

Heberer, blue; Virginia Kaufhold, red; Marian Nelson, yellow.

Beginner, Marian Cadwallader, blue; Betty Scott, red; Lucy Woodring, yellow; and Kathleen Zotti, honorable mention.

Esther Searls announced the following horticulture awards: Mary Mang, eight blue, four red, two yellow, and two white; Alice Korita, two blue and two red; LaVerne Renaud, three blue and three red; Mary Ellen Lindsay, three blue and two red; Ann Myer, two blue, one yellow; Virginia Kaufhold, two blue, one red; Barbara Melton, four red; Esther Searls, two blue and one red; Alvina Whitwell, one blue and one yellow; Gerry Thorp, one white; Maxine Lawrence, five blue; Clara Winter, three blue; LaVerne Feiling, two red; Maxine Schuette, one yellow; Alice Coffman, one blue; Nancy Wallace, two blue and one red; Eleanor Dubetz, one yellow; Dorcas Branch, one white; and Kathleen Zotti, one blue.

The Holiday Shores members welcomed the guests with coffee, cookies and muffins, which were served before the meeting.

Motion deadline set in murder trial

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

Richard Clover of Belleville, who was charged with murder in the death of another man outside the Country Club Saloon in September, will stand trial Feb. 14.

Circuit Judge Patrick Hittas of Carlyle set deadlines during a status conference Friday for each side to trade information and for motions on the case.

Tom Daley, who represents Clover, asked in a motion Wednesday that the personnel files of Belleville police officer Craig Stafford, especially those relating to his eyesight, be released. He also requested records relating to Stafford's employment application.

All motions in the case will be heard before Hittas Dec. 16.

Clover, 47, allegedly shot Charles Ennean to death after a dispute in the bar while Stafford was at the scene. According to police reports, Stafford responded to the scene after hearing shots fired. When he arrived, Clover had control of Ennean's gun and was pointing it at Ennean. Stafford told Clover twice to drop the weapon, police said, but Clover fired anyway.

Clover is free on $10,000 bond pending his trial. Hittas was assigned by the Illinois Supreme Court to hear the case after local felony judges refused to hear the case. Ennean, 58, was the uncle of Circuit Judge Stephen Kernan's wife.

Business guide available

A "Business Plan" guide is available through University of Illinois, Cooperative Extension Service. This guide will help in gathering and compiling information necessary to analyze an on-going or start-up business.

The guide is also useful for preparation of loan applications, including the SBA Federal Disaster Loans.

Deadlines for these SBA disaster loan programs have been extended and the amounts have been increased as follows:

*Business Physical Disaster Loans:
Deadline for application: Nov. 15, 1993; Limits: $1,500,000.
These loans to businesses are to repair or replace disaster damage to property owned by the business, including real estate, machinery and equipment, inventory and supplies.

Businesses of any size are eligible.
Nonprofit organizations such as charity, churches, private universities, etc., are also eligible.

*Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL):
Deadline for application: April 11, 1994; Limits: $1,500,000.

These loans are for working capital to small businesses and small agricultural cooperatives to assist them through the disaster recovery period.

EIDL assistance is available only to applicants with no credit elsewhere — if the business and its owners cannot provide for their own recovery from non-government sources.

*Home Disaster Loans:
Deadline: Nov. 15, 1993; Limits to: $100,000 for real estate; $20,000 for personal property.

You know someone who has a drinking problem.

You know how much it hurts.

But you don't know what to do.

We can help.

At The Edgewood Program, we know just how difficult it can be when you care for someone who has a drinking problem. Sometimes the hardest thing is admitting you don't know how to help them. • That's why we offer a free alcohol and drug educational series every Tuesday night from 7:30-9:00 pm. We'll teach you about alcohol and drug abuse, how it affects the family, when intervention is necessary and the way to recovery. It's a confidential program and everyone is treated with respect and with no questions asked. • At Edgewood, our focus is on the whole person—treating not only the physical symptoms but the spiritual, psychological and social aspects of that person's life. • If you care about someone who has a drinking problem, then join us any Tuesday night or call The Edgewood Program at 618/656-6730. Because the most important thing to learn about alcoholism is that you can make a difference.

Eagles hold fund-raising kick-off

The Fraternal Order of Eagles Granite City Aerie held its annual senior citizen fund raising kick-off dinner on Thursday night. The meeting had 250 members in attendance in addition to county officials such as Bill Haine, Evelyn Bowles and Harry Briggs. Mayor Ron Selph was the featured speaker for the event. The mayor talked on new services available in the city.

Charles Stokes was honored as the Senior Citizen of the Year. Bernadine Hagnauer was presented with the 1993 Senior Citizen Service Award for her work with seniors through Granite City Township and for her consistent help on the Eagles senior project.

Proceeds will go towards providing a traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner for senior citizens. Additional monies go towards Christmas baskets of food that are delivered to needy senior citizens.

People who are interested in helping or those who would like to seek help for someone should call the Eagles at 451-2109.

Bilyeu family reunion held

The annual family reunion of Clayton Bilyeu met at Wilson Park Oct. 9.

Invocation was offered by the eldest granddaughter, Olive Taylor. Those in attendance were the three Clayton Bilyeu daughters, Vernellie Ann Lowery, Irene Barnhart and Debra Harrison.

Other members of the family were Oren Harrison, Clayton "Jug" Harrison, John Harrison, Ollie Derr, Venus Hares, Chris Warren, Charles King, Barbara Jarrett, Darrell and Barbara Jarrett, Beverly Freeman and Jason, Tom Davis, Michelle Moore and David and Andrew, Bernice and Olive Taylor, Michael and Jo Ann Taylor, James and Virginia Evans, Elmer and Sherry Bilyeu and Cindy and Krystahl, and Mary Jane Graham and Danny.

Family members were entertained by the Hoedowners Square Dancing Club from Wood River with Bo Semith calling.

After a few sets, family members were asked to join in with the square dancing for some good old fashion hoe-down. Other dancers were Phil and Linda Bailey, Sid and Melva Clov, Richard and Helen Troiet, Deny and Norma Walton and Everett and Jo Steele.

Local cooks excite the taste buds, spark season with some nifty global recipes

Granite City woman shows art of Macedonian cooking

For centuries after its golden age under Phillip and his son Alexander the Great, Macedonia remained the crossroads of the known world — a fact reflected in Macedonian cooking.

The rudiments of Slavic goulash, Greek eggplant dishes, Teutonic potato flour and Roman garlic and anchovy sauces can all be found in Macedonian recipes. Through the years oriental rice, Celtic malt and tomatoes from the New World were added to the mix.

In fact, the two favorite spices today — mint and black pepper reflect reflect imports from the very ends of the then-known world.

Tomea Kirchoff of Granite City is an active member of the Macedonian Patriotic Organization in North America and among her many activities for the organization, faithfully sells its cookbooks of traditional recipes each year.

Although Macedonians in America readily adopted Thanksgiving — celebrated with turkey and a traditional Macedonian feast — she said Christmas is really the time when traditional food plays a major role.

One of the major advantages of Kirchoff's "Gourabee" or shortbread cookies, is that, kept in a tight container or refrigerated, it keeps for a very long time. A large batch made early in the season will ensure that Gourabee can be served to guests throughout the holidays.

Gourabee

(shortbread cookies)

- 1 lb. sweet butter
- 2 egg yolks
- 6 tsp. icing sugar
- 1 oz. whiskey
- 1 tsp. baking powder

- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 4 1/4 cups all-purpose flour

Preheat oven to 325°. Have all ingredients at room temperature. Place the butter in a large bowl and beat for 10 minutes at high speed with electric mixer.

Add the egg yolks, icing sugar, baking powder, whiskey and vanilla. Continue beating until well blended.

Sift the flour and mix in enough to make a soft, pliable dough. The less flour used, the richer the cookie. Let dough stand for 15 minutes before shaping.

Shape the dough into small crescents or fingers and place on an ungreased cookie sheet. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned.

When the shortbreads are completely cooled, sprinkle generously with icing sugar.

"My mother always liked to put walnuts in the center of her Gourabee," Kirchoff said. "Other people like almonds, but they're very good just plain."

Kirchoff was born in the section of Macedonia annexed by Greece early in the 20th Century. Greek became the official language of schools and government.

"I was getting old enough to start school and my father said he would never have me educated as a Greek, so we moved to Granite City," she said.

In America, the congregations of the Eastern Orthodox Churches tend to be made up of a wide variety of ethnic groups — often groups that were bitter enemies in their native countries. But, Kirchoff said, here we are what we are and most of all we're American.

The holidays are a time of gathering with family and friends over good food and in the past Macedonian women often found themselves tied to the kitchen while the men had all the fun, Kirchoff said. But, while Kirchoff loves to cook, she made it clear that spending the holidays in the kitchen is not a tradition she cares to maintain.

So Kirchoff's "Pulnee Peepers," or stuffed peppers, also has the advantage of advance preparation. Fully cooked, it freezes well and can be brought out and reheated when needed.

Pulnee Peepers (stuffed peppers)

- 1 doz. large banana peppers
- 2 tbsp. butter
- 2 large onions, chopped
- 1 lb. minced lean beef
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 cup stewed or fresh tomatoes
- 1 cup long grain rice
- 1/2 tsp. black pepper
- 1/2 tsp. mint
- 8 oz. tomato sauce

Wash peppers, remove top and seeds, pierce with point of knife in one or two places.

Melt butter in frying pan, sauté onions, add meat and stir until browned. Add salt, paprika and tomatoes, stir and cook for five more minutes. Add rice, pepper and mint. Mix well and remove from stove. Allow to cool slightly.

Pack peppers lightly with filling and place in a single layer in roasting pan. Pour any filling left over the peppers. Add tomato sauce and water to 1/2-inch depth. Cover tightly with foil and bake at 350° for about 45 minutes or until pepper is tender when pierced with fork.

A popular variation of Pulnee Peepers uses minced or finely chopped lamb instead of beef. The same beef or lamb filling may be used for stuffed eggplant, Kirchoff said. Eggplants should be split in half lengthwise and scooped out.

Go Hungarian for holidays

By Bernie Cook
Correspondent

Busy with his shop, Ron Dinga of Belleville says he doesn't get to cook as much as he would like, but he does prepare his specialties when he can.

Hungarian food is a favorite for his family. Cabbage and noodles is always popular. Hungarian butter horns are a tradition for Christmas.

"That's a must," said Ron whose sisters request them every year.

Stuffed cabbage is a favorite for Ron and his wife, Denise.

In addition to Hungarian food, Ron likes to make beer bread and lasagna. His oldest son, Darren, also prepares lasagna that Ron admits may be better than his.

Ron began cooking with his mother, Velma Dinga. Being the oldest sibling he would help his mother bake and cook Hungarian food for the family meals.

When Ron married Denise he shared meal preparation with her. Often weekends were Ron's time to cook when Denise was working as a nurse.

Now, Ron says, everyone in the family likes to cook. Denise coming from an Italian family cooks the Italian dishes.

Here are his recipes:

Hungarian Butter

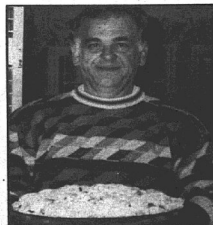

Horns

- 4 c. of all purpose flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 cake of yeast or
- 2 pkg. of dry yeast
- 1 1/4 c. butter (2 1/2 sticks)
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1/2 c. sour cream

Mix flour, add salt and crumble yeast into flour. Cut butter into flour mixture than add beaten egg yolks, sour cream and vanilla shape into 8 or more balls and chill at least 1 hour or overnight.

Fillings:

Beat 3 egg whites until stiff, add 1 cup granulated sugar and beat well. Add 1 cup chopped nuts and 1 tsp. vanilla and 1/2 cup of honey.

Dredge table with powdered sugar and take 1 ball of dough and roll the size of a pie plate. Cut into 8 wedges and put 1 tsp. of filling in each and roll to center. Repeat process with remaining balls of dough. Bake 15-18 minutes at 400 degrees.

Fried Cabbage and Noodles

- 1 sm. head cabbage, cut up fine
- 1 Tbsp. of oil
- 1 Tbsp. margarine
- 1 c. of cooked noodles salt, to taste
- pepper, to taste

In large frying pan melt margarine, add oil, cabbage, salt and pepper; cook on low heat for 45 minutes; stir every 15 minutes. When done stir in cooked noodles.

Tomato Sauce

- 2 Tbsp. oil
- 1 Tbsp. margarine
- 3 Tbsp. flour
- 1-1/2 c. can
- DelMonte
- Stewed tomatoes
- 2 Tbsp. sugar

In frying pan, melt margarine; add oil and flour; brown well.

Buon Natale!

Collinsville grandmother brings home delicious taste of Italy

By ALENE HILL
Correspondent

For Esther Gherna, Christmas celebrations in Cinzano, the small Italian village where she spent most of her childhood, always included midnight Mass and a family gathering that, needless to say, included plenty of food.

"My family would all come to my grandmother's house," said Gherna, of Collinsville.

In that part of Italy, cradled in the Alps and about an hour away from both the Swiss and French borders, holiday activities include skiing and sleigh riding.

Now during the Christmas holidays, this energetic grandmother, very busy with church and civic activities, still entertains family and friends with the fare she has become known for in Collinsville.

Here she shares some of her favorite dishes for the holidays. Buon Natale!

Bagna Cauda

- 1/2 pound unsalted butter
- 1 cup oil (add more oil if necessary)
- 1 cup garlic
- 2 cans anchovies
- 1 tablespoon of vinegar
- 2 loaves Italian bread
- 1 bottle Bolla wine

Melt butter in an electric frying pan. Add oil and sauté garlic until soft, not brown. Cut anchovies in small pieces, add to garlic and stir. Add vinegar and cook for five minutes. Turn dial to low on frying pan and keep bagna cauda hot.

Italian Polenta with Chicken Sauce

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut up salt
- 2 onions, chopped, divided

- 2 large cloves of garlic, chopped and divided
- 1 sweet yellow or red bell pepper
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 with leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon dried rosemary
- 1/2 cup chopped fresh
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 (15 ounce) can Italian tomato sauce
- 1 can tomato paste
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar

For sauce: boil chicken in salted water, covered with one chopped onion and 1 chopped garlic clove until done. Remove chicken from broth; let cool. Reserve broth.

In large pot, sauté remaining onion, garlic clove, bell pepper, celery, rosemary, parsley, basil and bay leaf in olive oil with 1/2 cup reserved chicken broth until vegetables are slightly softened. Add tomato sauce and tomato paste, stir well. Add enough reserved broth for desired consistency. Add salt and pepper to taste, then sugar. Stir well. Bring to a boil, then reduce heat to simmer. Cover and cook one hour, stirring every 15 minutes to prevent sticking.

Remove skin and bones from chicken. Cut the chicken into bite-sized pieces and add to sauce the last half hour of cooking.

For polenta:

- 3 cups water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup yellow cornmeal (regular, not coarse grain)
- 1/4 cup olive oil

In a large, heavy pan, bring salted water to a simmer. Slowly, in a very fine stream, add the cornmeal, stirring constantly with a whisk. Make sure the water is just simmering and the corn meal is added slowly to avoid lumps. Keep stirring over low heat until the mixture becomes a solid firm mass, that pulls away from the side of the pot as it is stirred, about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from heat and pour into a well-buttered 9-by-13-inch shallow pan and smooth the top. Let cool completely.

When ready to serve, cut the polenta into eight pieces. Heat the olive oil in a skillet and fry the polenta pieces until brown on both sides.

To serve: remove bay leaf from sauce. Spoon sauce over hot polenta. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese.

Fritata Dusa

- 1 quart milk
- 4 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup Cream of Wheat
- 1 box plain bread crumbs

- 2 sticks butter, unsalted
- 2 lemons
- 2 eggs, separated
- 2 tablespoons Amaretto liqueur

In a two-quart pan, blend milk, sugar and salt. Grate the rinds of two lemons and add to mixture. Cook, stirring to prevent sticking.

When boiling, add Cream of Wheat and two egg yolks. Simmer until it gets thick. Remove from heat, add flavoring and one teaspoon lemon juice.

Grease one cookie sheet. Dump Cream of Wheat mixture onto cookie sheet, spread to one-inch thickness and allow to cool. Cut into 2 1/2-inch squares.

Beat egg whites with 1/4 cup water. Dip squares and roll in bread crumbs. Fry in butter until soft brown. Sprinkle with sugar and eat while warm.

Shake up everyday meals with tasty, nutritious crunch

Vitamin E and its antioxidant partners, vitamin C and beta carotene, are being dubbed "cardio-nutrients" by some health professionals due to increasing evidence of their ability to protect against heart disease.

Two ongoing observational studies reported in the May 1993 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine note an association between vitamin E and a reduced incidence of heart disease. The studies, one using 39,210 male health professionals and the other of 87,245 female nurses, are efforts of the Harvard Medical School, the Harvard School of Public Health and the Brigham and Women's Hospital of Boston, funded by the National Institutes of Health.

In the studies, men and women who took at least 100 international units (IU) of vitamin E a day for a minimum of two years had an average 40 percent reduction in the incidence of heart disease.

Dr. Charles Hennekens, co-author and principal investigator of the cardiovascular part of the nurses' health study, says the study is a strong indicator, but it will take several years to decide whether this is definitive. In the past decade, doctors and nutritionists recommended that Americans change the way they eat in order to reduce blood cholesterol levels and, therefore, help prevent heart disease. Reducing fat in the daily diet has been the focus. Antioxidants may be the next thrust because they have the ability to block certain cell damage that eventually may overwhelm a body's natural defenses.

"How does this research translate into daily eating?

While vitamin C and beta carotene are easily obtained from everyday foods, vitamin E is present only in relatively small amounts. National food consumption data show that most adults do not get the recommended amounts of vitamin E, especially as they grow older.

Good food sources of vitamin E include wheat germ, fortified breakfast cereals, shellfish, sunflower seeds and leafy green vegetables. According to the latest FDA regulations, a serving must provide 10 to 19 percent of the Daily Value (U.S. RDA) to be considered a good source.

Participants in the vitamin E studies depended on supplements. The greatest protective effect was seen in people whose daily intake averaged about 100 IU for more than two years. In contrast, the Daily Value (DV) for vitamin E is 30 IU (or 10 milligrams).

Until there is proof that large doses of antioxidants are beneficial and risk-free, the general recommendation is to get the minimum and get it from food. Here are some easy ideas for adding vitamin E with extra wheat germ in everyday meals. Two tablespoons wheat germ adds 5 IU of vitamin E.

Whole wheat vegetable pizza

- 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms
- 1 cup bell pepper strips, divided in different colors
- 1/2 cup sliced onion
- 2 tsp tomato sauce
- 1/2 tsp Italian seasoning
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup wheat germ
- 1/2 tsp baking powder
- 1/2 cup skim milk
- 1 tbsp oil

Preheat oven to 425°. Lightly spray baking sheet with nonstick cooking spray. In small microwave-safe dish, cover vegetables loosely and microwave on high power 1 1/2 minutes or until tender-crisp. Combine tomato sauce, parmesan cheese and Italian seasoning.

Combine flour, wheat germ and baking powder. Stir in milk and oil. Mix well. With lightly oiled fingers, pat and shape dough on baking sheet into 8- to 9-inch circle with 1/2-inch rim. Bake in preheated oven 5 minutes. Spread sauce over crust. Top with vegetables. Bake 10 to 12 minutes until crust is golden brown. Makes 2 servings; 370 calories, 15 g fat, no cholesterol, 525 mg sodium and 6 g fiber each.

Frosty fruit smoothie

- 1 carton (8 oz.) vanilla low-fat yogurt
- 1 cup sliced peaches (canned or fresh)
- 1 medium ripe banana
- 1/4 cup wheat germ
- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 1 cup ice cubes

In blender or food processor, blend yogurt, peaches, banana, wheat germ, orange juice and ice cubes about 1 minute or until smooth. Serve immediately.

Garnish with fresh fruit and additional wheat germ, if desired. Makes 2 servings; 290 calories, 12 g protein, 37 g carbohydrate, 3 g fat, 5 mg cholesterol, 80 mg sodium and 4 g fiber each.

Keep variety of recipes handy

Taking a shortcut at mealtime does not require a short-changing taste or variety. A new book of delicious "No-Time-To-Cook Recipes" from Campbell Soup Co. shows how to take out the fizzle and put back the dazzle of meal planning—in 30 minutes or less.

While most of the 50 mouth-watering "No-Time-To-Cook" recipes can be made in a matter of minutes, their robust appeal includes timeless family favorites like Broccoli-Chicken, Chicken Quesadillas, Cheddar Pasta and Vegetables and New Potatoes and Peas.

Cooking with canned soup means spending only a little time to get great taste and satisfaction without extensive planning and preparation, because the need for extra ingredients has been eliminated. The result is dozens of hearty main courses, side dishes and sauces created for poultry, beef, pork, pasta, vegetables, potatoes and cheese.

The book includes cooking tips, a color photo of every recipe, as well as easy step-by-step techniques and practical timesaving hints. It is available at some supermarkets, or by sending a check or money order for $2.50 to: "No-Time-To-Cook," Box 19025PR, Ronks, Pa. 17373. Even without the book, here are a couple delicious recipe from it.

Chicken quesadillas

- 1 can (10 1/4 oz.) cream of chicken soup
- 1 1/2 cups chopped cooked chicken
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese, divided
- 1 jalapeno pepper, seeded, finely chopped (about 1 tablespoon), if desired
- 8 flour tortillas (8 inches each)

Salsa
Sliced fresh plum tomato, sliced jalapeno pepper and fresh cilantro sprigs for garnish, if desired

Preheat oven to 400°. In small bowl, combine soup, chicken, 1/2 cup cheddar cheese and chopped jalapeno pepper. Top half of each tortilla with 1/2 cup soup mixture, spreading evenly to within 1/2 inch of edge. Moisten edges of tortillas with water. Fold over, pressing edges to seal.

On two large baking sheets, arrange filled tortillas. Bake in preheated oven 8 minutes or until hot. Sprinkle with remaining 1/2 cup cheddar cheese. Serve with salsa and sour cream. Garnish with tomato, sliced jalapeno pepper and cilantro. Makes 8 quesadillas or 4 servings.

Cheddar pasta and vegetables

- 1 1/2 cups uncooked corkscrew pasta
- 1 cup fresh broccoli florets
- 2 medium carrots, sliced (about 1 cup)
- 1 large red or green bell pepper, coarsely chopped (about 1 cup), if desired
- 1 can (10 1/4 oz.) cream of celery soup
- 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tbsp. prepared mustard

In 4-quart saucepan, prepare pasta according to package directions. Add broccoli, carrot and bell pepper the last 5 minutes cooking time. Drain in colander.

In same saucepan, combine soup, cheese, milk and mustard. Over low heat, heat until cheese is melted, stirring often. Add pasta and vegetables. Heat through, stirring occasionally. Makes about 4 1/2 cups or 5 servings.

"Your Friend and Neighbor For 63 Years"

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

Every year the 48 home economists who become "Auntie Berta" to the country prepare turkeys all the ways available to the cook at home. They roast it, smoke it, grill it, cook it in a covered smoker, in plastic bag, and foil in the oven. What method do they recommend?

How to cook the turkey to a rich brown, tasty main dish set amid a table of plenty is a dilemma for some. Here are some of Schnelle's suggestions and comments about questions from the talk-line.

SEP: A convenient retirement program

For an owner or employee of a business, there may be better days ahead. President Clinton's plans to overhaul the nation's health care system could make it easier for small businesses to provide comprehensive health care benefits.

In the meantime, let's take a look at another benefit geared specifically to small businesses—a retirement savings program—that's been around for several years: the simplified employee pension (SEP) plan. SEPs feature special advantages for both the company and the employee.

If You're an Employer...
For the employer, a SEP offers tax benefits, flexibility and easy administration. As an employer, you can deduct all company contributions made on behalf of your employees from your taxes. You have until your company's tax filing date to establish and fund the plan. You must contribute the same percentage of compensation for each participant. Also, as with a profit-sharing plan, you are free to suspend contributions when business is poor.

Because the employer directs the investments, your fiduciary responsibility is limited. There are minimal administrative responsibilities regarding each employee's investments, as long as you meet a few disclosure requirements. There is no need to file IRA Form 5500.

Using a program offered by an investment firm could make things even easier. You would write only one check for all participants, designating how money should be credited to each account. Also, your employees could take advantage of the firm's products, services and investment expertise.

If You're an Employee...
While your employer sets up the SEP, you direct the investments. Your employer makes contributions on your behalf, although the law allows a company to suspend contributions. All contributions grow tax deferred. You may continue to invest up to $2,000 separately in your IRA while also participating in a SEP. You may place IRA and SEP money in the same investment, which could make tracking your retirement assets easier and may save you money in account maintenance fees.

With a SEP, you have a wider range of investment choices than those offered by most other company-sponsored investment plans. You may invest in the stocks, bonds, mutual funds, annuities, unit trusts and other securities of your choice. However, that also means you have to do more homework on which investments are best for you. A financial consultant can help you select investments suitable for your goals and style of investing.

If your plan is a Salary Reduction SEP, you may contribute your own money through automatic payroll deduction. This type of SEP also lowers your taxable income for the current year.

How Much Money in Each Account?

The combination of employee and employer contributions may be as much as 15 percent of the employee's income, to an annual maximum of $30,000. This limit will be reduced to $22,500 by the 1993 federal budget act, which means people earning more than $150,000 will not be able to contribute 15 percent of their income.

If you own a business and want to explore the advantages of an SEP, speak to a financial consultant. If you're an employee and your company does not have such a plan, speak to your employer about SEPs.

Choosing and caring for a Christmas Tree

by the experts at

FRANK'S NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

There's really nothing quite like a real fresh-cut Christmas tree. Sure, there are a few drawbacks, just as there are in lifelike trees, but if you're the traditional type that loves a fresh tree every year, the drawbacks are easily overlooked. After all, what can match the fresh aroma of a live tree during the holiday season?

Perhaps you've owned lifelike trees in the past, and this year would like to try a real one for the first time. Either way, you're sure to find the perfect one at Frank's.

On Sunday we told you about lifelike trees. The real ones get their turn today.

The vast majority of the trees Frank's sells this year come from the frosty north woods of Michigan, an area famous for its Christmas trees. These trees meet the quality standards Frank's demands.

There are four types of fresh-cut trees available at Frank's. Let's discuss each one. The ever-popular Scotch Pine is a good one to begin with. It holds its needles very well, has a good fragrance, and is considered the most durable tree of all. The Douglas Fir has the same qualities, but its needles are a bit softer and it has a bushier appearance. Balsam Firs come either traditional or sheared. They have short needles, and a tight, compact growth. The traditional Balsam Fir has a more open growth habit. And, finally, the Fraser Fir is probably the closest thing to the perfect tree. It has silver/green one-inch needles, retains needles very well, is almost perfectly shaped, and has a superb fragrance.

When picking out a tree, you should remember that the tree looks much smaller out in the open than it will in your home. That "nice little tree" outdoors can end up to be a towering behemoth in the living room. We're not suggesting you take a tape measure with you, but you should have some idea of the space you have allotted for the tree beforehand.

Check the thickness of the tree's trunk. If the trunk's too big for your tree stand, it can be trimmed, but it's a lot of extra work. You'll probably have to lop off some of the lower branches anyway, but

A Halloween tall tale was told by Ferguson, including the Brooks Catsup Bottle. Others attending were Carolyn Brennan, Cheryl Back, Linda Mizell and Marilyn Lumpkins.

FEELING FIT

By Mark Lymberopoulos

Work out, work smarter! People who improve aerobic fitness also improve the ability to perform more complex tasks.

Basic abdominal crunch works the long muscle that runs from the pubic bone to the rib cage. With the small of the back firmly against the floor, bend knees and raise feet 6 inches in the air. With arms across the chest, lift head and upper body until knees and elbows meet.

When outdoor temperatures fall, it's handy to have an indoor track. To make the run more interesting, adjust the variables such as pace, distance, number of fast runs and the rest between fast runs.

New wrinkle on step aerobics is the double step, two platforms set next to each other, 12 to 14 inches apart. For maximum fat burning, say the pros, exaggerate leg motions, using muscles, not momentum.

Smart move, if you run regularly, wear different running shoes on alternate days—even different brands. The risk of shin splints is reduced when feet aren't subject to the same stresses day after day.

Weight Loss Puzzles Researcher!

WASHINGTON -- A researcher at National Dietary Research was puzzled at how successful a natural food tablet had become in helping overweight people lose weight. Dr. William Morris was puzzled because the original chewable tablet formula was developed to help feed the world's undernourished people.

Some may say the weight loss is due to the natural plant colloids that Finnish scientists say interferes with the intestinal absorption of calories and Swedish scientists found to cause weight loss in spite of patients being instructed not to alter normal eating patterns. Others may say it's the patented ingredient developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture that burns the fat. But not all scientists agree with these theories so they must be considered speculation pending further study.

According to Dr. Morris, the improved formula's weight loss potential is no longer a mystery. The formula called Food Source II (FS-II) contains a powerful appetite blocker that decreases caloric absorption.

FS-II comes with a revolutionary diet plan that allows you to lose weight without giving up your favorite foods. With the FS-II Plan there are no forbidden foods and the special appetite control ingredient is one of the most effective available without a prescription.

Berkeley-Brown Labs has obtained exclusive distribution rights to FS-II. FS-II is available through pharmacies and other health care professionals.

4 area teachers to receive awards

Four area educators are among 95 in the St. Louis area to be honored with Emerson Electric Co. Excellence in Teaching Awards.

The Emersons, which publicly recognize teachers for dedication to their profession, are awarded to nominated teachers from all levels of education, from kindergarten through post-secondary higher education.

"We believe that few professions in our community are as vital to the growth and development of our children as teaching," said Charles F. Knight, chairman and chief executive officer of Emerson.

Area teachers honored were:
* Pamela A. Cook, a business teacher at Edwardsville High School. "She makes students and their welfare her top priority," Principal Elizabeth Lewin said.

"She tries to make learning easier," Lewin said. Cook takes a strong interest in job placement for her students and works closely with employers to monitor their progress. "A lot of it is done on her own time," Lewin said.

* Don McCabe, associate professor and chairman of the political science department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. "He genuinely enjoys teaching and gives an enormous amount of time and energy in doing it well," said Samuel Pearson, dean of SIUE's School of Social Science. Pearson said McCabe uses a variety of active learning methods to heighten students' interest.

* Jacqueline Papa, a teacher at the Bethalto Sixth Grade Center. "In my 20 years in education, she's the best teacher I've seen," Assistant Principal Kirk Johnson said. "A lot of it has to do with the energy and enthusiasm she brings to the classroom every day. I can't say enough good things about her."

* Deborah L. Sims, who teaches intermediate educable mentally handicapped pupils at Blair Elementary School in East Alton. "She's very much respected by her students and her peers," Principal Paul Hellrung said.

The teachers were honored at a ceremony and reception at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Clayton, Mo. Each teacher received an engraved crystal apple. St. Louis-based Emerson manufactures a broad range of electronic and other products for consumer, commercial and industrial markets.

AIDS task force to meet

The Metro-East AIDS Task Force, composed of agencies in the Metro-East, will meet from 9 to 11 a.m. Nov. 18 at the Gateway Foundation in Caseyville. Guest speaker will be Gary Hirschberg, an independent counselor from St. Louis, who will discuss AIDS demographics and trends.

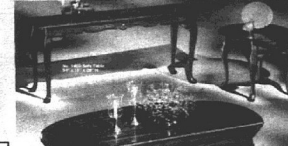

Current trends in the Metro-East Area are including more heterosexuals, women and children.

This meeting is open to the public. Anyone who is interested may attend.

Preventive car maintenance still pays off in long run

Advanced designs and computer-controlled systems have become standard equipment on today's new, high-tech automobiles. But some vehicle owners are finding this state-of-the-art gadgetry intimidating, and many drivers put off looking under the hood until something goes wrong.

Improved technologies such as electronic ignitions and fuel injection systems on newer cars have virtually eliminated the "traditional" tune-up practices of adjusting carburetors, installing points, and setting the timing. However, with regular preventive maintenance, vehicle owners still can improve the performance and fuel efficiency of today's cars.

"Once they've purchased a new car, some people are led to believe that all they have to do is drive it, fill it with gas, and change the oil — and then they expect it to last five or 10 years until they trade it in," said Roger Kwapich, manager of technical services for Champion Spark Plug Co., and host of "Gasoline Alley," a radio talk show about car care and automobiles.

"Granted, the engines and transmissions being built for today's cars are far superior to those in older model cars, but only if you maintain them. And that's a big if," Kwapich said.

"There's this perception that a car can be like a washing machine. That it will last for years without ever needing maintenance. But that's not how it works in the real world."

One constant in the realm of evolving engine technologies is the spark plug. A critical link in any engine's ignition system, misfiring or worn spark plugs can affect how efficiently a vehicle burns the fuel-air mixture, ultimately affecting engine performance.

One major survey by Champion Spark Plug Co. found that cars in need of new spark plugs and a tune-up could improve fuel economy through better vehicle maintenance.

Although tune-up intervals vary from car to car, and some owner's manuals indicate newer models can go almost twice as long as older vehicles between tune-ups, preventive maintenance and checking the car periodically can help assure it continues to deliver peak performance.

According to Kwapich, "Preventative maintenance today will help your car last until tomorrow." For example, because spark plugs often are victims of other problems in an engine, they can reveal valuable "clues" for evaluating engine performance. With a simple check, a professional mechanic can confirm a vehicle is running properly, or spot minor problems before they become major malfunctions, just by examining the condition of the spark plugs.

Many other preventive, under-the-hood checks can be accomplished by the car owner at home without a mechanic. No matter how high-tech the engine, just a visual inspection of belts and hoses can reveal cracks, frays, leaks and bulges — sure signs of impending part failure. And drivers easily can monitor engine fluid levels by periodically checking to be sure oil, radiator, battery, power steering, brake and automatic transmission fluids are filled to recommended levels.

Get ready now for winter driving: 10 tips from pros

The Blue Seal of Excellence automotive repair facilities that employ certified technicians display the blue seal sign.

It means one or more of the auto technicians has passed national certification exams in areas such as engine performance, electrical systems, and brakes.

Nationally, there are about 200,000 ASE-certified technicians of work in all types of repair facilities.

Fall is the perfect time to undo the damage done by the heat and dust of summer and prepare for cold-weather driving.

The National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (ASE), a non-profit group that administers national certification tests to automotive technicians, offers the following tips to help you get ready for winter driving. Some are easy; others require the skilled hands of a professional auto technician.

1) Getting started. All drivers, even those who never pick up a wrench, should start by reading the owner's manual and becoming familiar with the basic systems. The manual provides useful tips on driving, safety and maintenance.

All recommended service schedules should be followed. Consider the consequences of neglect: A survey of the nation's elite ASE-certified automotive technicians revealed that owners could extend the life of their vehicles by 50 percent or more through regular maintenance.

2) General Cleaning/Maintenance. Wash your vehicle and apply a protective coat of wax or polish. Inspect all lights and replace burned out bulbs. Replace worn wiper blades and make sure you have plenty of washer fluid. Carry emergency gear such as gloves, boots, blankets, flares and a flashlight.

3) Battery. The only accurate way to detect a weak battery is with the professional equipment available at good repair shops. Most people, though, can perform routine care.

Scrape away corrosion from posts and cable connections; clean all surfaces; re-tighten connections. Wear eye protection and rubber gloves to avoid contact with the corrosive deposits and acid.

4) Engine Oil. The oil change is one of the most vital maintenance tasks, and yet it is one of the most neglected. The oil and filter should be changed as specified in your owner's manual — more often (every 3,000 miles) if you do lots of stop-and-go driving, carry heavy loads, or drive long distances.

5) Cooling System. To help prevent radiator freeze-ups and/or over-heating, the cooling system should be completely flushed and refilled about every 24 months.

The level, condition and concentration of the coolant should be checked periodically. Never remove the radiator cap until the engine has cooled down. A 50/50 mix of anti-freeze and water is usually recommended. The tightness and condition of drive belts, clamps and hoses should be checked by a pro.

6) Engine Performance. Be prepared to describe changes in your engine's performance to a qualified technician. Rough idling, hard starts, stalling, or diminished power should be corrected before harsh weather sets in.

The air, fuel and PCV filters should be replaced according to the manufacturers' recommendations.

7) Heater/Defroster. For comfort and safety, the heater and defroster should be in good working condition. To prevent deadly fumes from entering the vehicle, have the exhaust system examined for leaks and the underbody and trunk inspected for small holes.

8) Tire Balancing tires are a safety hazard and of little use in snow and slush. Tires should be rotated every 5,000 miles. The air pressure should be checked once a month; let the tires "cool down" first. Check the sidewalls for nicks and cuts. Examine tires for tread life, uneven wearing, and cupping. Remember to check the spare tire and make certain the jack is in working condition.

Use caution before installing tire chains; they are not compatible with some of today's "low profile" body styles and tire packages. Check your owner's manual.

9) Brakes. Regular maintenance will extend the life of the brakes and prevent more costly repairs due to neglect. Brakes should be inspected as recommended by your manual, or sooner if you notice pulsations, grabbing, noises, or longer stopping distances.

10) Finding Good Auto Service. Ask friends and associates for their recommendations — word of mouth travels far. Contact your local consumer organization regarding reputation, complaints, etc. Look for vehicles of comparable value to your own on the lot.

Once inside, look for orderly conditions, modern equipment, customer service awards, and current training certificates. Policies regarding pricing and guarantees should be posted. The write-up staff should be courteous and willing to listen to you and to answer your questions.

DeMolay chapter installs master councilor

Nathan J. McCrary was installed master councilor of the James Stuart Chapter Order of DeMolay at the Granite City Masonic Temple on Saturday, Oct. 3. He was also installed as fourth preceptor.

Other officers installed were Scott A. Yokley, senior councilor and third preceptor; Jason S. Blanton, junior councilor and sixth preceptor; Michael J. Adams, chaplain and fifth preceptor; Robert H. O'Bear, senior deacon; Michael P. Ellidge, junior deacon; Douglas S. Ray, senior steward and second preceptor; and Robert D. Jones III, almoner.

Officers not present to be installed were Craig Tankley, sentinel; William M. Pope, steward and seventh preceptor; and Timothy M. Howell, orator.

The master of ceremonies was Paul O'Bear. The installing team from Ascalon Chapter in Collinsville consisted of Ronald P. Smith, installing officer; Michael P. Crawford, installing senior councilor; Brent W. Bull, installing junior councilor; Mark Crawford, installing marshal; James M. Fisher, installing chaplain; and Greg Lalk, installing senior deacon.

Job Daughters from Bethel 43 in Granite City, led by Honored Queen Stacie Sanscouise, were escorted into the chapter room at the beginning by DeMolay officers and at the close of the installation they formed the cross.

Honored guests were Lori O'Bear, chapter sweetheart; William P. Marshall, state master councilor of the Illinois Order of DeMolay; "Dad" Jimmy E. Stuart, dean Egyptian of Preceptory Legion of Honor, active member and grand senior steward of the International Supreme Council Order of DeMolay and junior past executive officer for the Jurisdiction of Illinois; and Walter S. Burghann, governor of the Illinois DeMolay.

After being installed master councilor, Nathan McCrary welcomed everyone and then had the installing marshal escort his special honored guest, "Dad" Paul O'Bear, to the altar for introduction and then to the east.

He then thanked "Dad" O'Bear for being master of ceremonies, Kathleen O'ff for presiding over the installation, the installing team for installing the chapter, and then thanked the Job's Daughters for their part in the installation.

His mother and father, Kathy and Tony McCrary, were escorted to the altar by his brother, Robbie O'Bear, where Nathan presented his mother with an arm bouquet of roses. Then he had Robbie escort his grandmother and grandfather, Brenda and Dale O'Bear, to the altar, where he also presented his grandmother with an arm bouquet of roses. While each were at the altar, there was a musical selection for them. Nathan then introduced the members of his family and other guests and asked the other installed officers to rise and introduce themselves and members of their families.

Ellis N. Hackney Jr. was introduced as grand warter of the Amarrath of Illinois and secretary of Temple Lodge 835 A.F. and A.M.

Visiting DeMolay were asked to introduce themselves and honor men, degree of chevalier, active legion of honor, honor legion of honor, DeMolay cross of honor and past master councilors were asked to stand in separate groups.

Visiting advisers and chapter sweethearts were asked to introduce themselves as were visiting Job's Daughters and Rainbow Girls.

William P. Marshall, state master councilor, was asked for remarks and he also introduced other DeMolay state officers present. "Dad" Stuart and "Dad" Bergman spoke briefly.

Debbie Yokley, president of the Parents' Club, was introduced and the Parents' Club was thanked for the many ways they help the chapter. Debbie then presented a DeMolay Bible, King James version, to Nathan. Chapter sweetheart, Lori O'Bear, presented Nathan with a mascot and Dale O'Bear gave Nathan a gavel.

"Dad" Paul O'Bear, awards adviser, made the following presentations: masters councilors pin and an active athletic and a white attendance merit bar to Nathan, the founder's membership award from the International Supreme Council for being first line signer on five petitions to Jason S. Blanton, merit bars and blue attendance to Robbie O'Bear, white athletics to Ron O'ff Jr. and a red civic service and a DeMolay of the Term trophy to Scott Yokley.

The installing chaplain closed the installation with a prayer, "The Nine O'Clock Interpolation."

The installation was adjourned to refreshments served by the Parents' Club and to music for listening and dancing by Paul O'Bear. The chapter officers formed a reception line in the east and the installing team retired. Pictures of officers were done by John Richardson.

Windows donated for victims

Flood victims will soon be doing windows and glass work thanks to one of the largest non-cash contributions ever received by the United Way.

About 300 windows from Pella Corp. of Pella, Iowa, worth an estimated $100,000 will be available beginning Monday afternoon at First Call for Help, 228 Edwardsville Road, Wood River, said Candy Runier, community director for the United Way Area Partnership.

"This is probably the single biggest in-kind contribution we've ever had," Runier said. United Way has had requests for replacement windows.

"I don't imagine they'll be around here more than four or five days," she said. "We ought to be able to help 20 or 30 families."

Pella made the windows available through the United Way's Gifts In Kind America, Runier said.

Roadway Trucking Co. transported the windows at nominal cost, and Wagner Equipment Co. of Wood River will donate the use of a forklift to unload the windows, she said.

The standard-size windows will be available on a first-come, first-served basis, she said. Flood victims need to bring proof of address of buildings where the windows will be used and will have to arrange their own transportation for the windows.

For information, call First Call for Help at 264-4000.
